

Remote Lab Access

Lab-Environment

Introduction

Welcome to the Hitachi Vantara Global Learning. Our Courses combine the most appropriate education delivery methods with specialist instructors and emphasis on practical exercises.

Citrix Remote Access

For our customers and trainers, we provide access to our Lab-Environment using the Microsoft RDP Client as published application through Citrix.

In order to gain access to the Lab-Environment, the "Citrix Online Plug-in" or "Receiver" must be installed on your workstation.

As with most installations, administrative privileges on the computer are necessary to install the client software. Managed workstations may require desktop support personnel to install the client software or to prepare a firewall.
